Preparing for Closing

In general, a representative from a local title insurance company conducts closing meetings for Homewise customers and most buyers in New Mexico. The buyer, closing agent, lender representative, and real estate broker may attend the closing meeting.

Why do I need a title search?

When you buy a house, you will want a title company representative to research the chain of title and give you a history of who owned it, so you can be sure that the person selling you the house really has the right to sell it. The closing agent or title company representative researches the public records, then issues a title report, or abstract, that not only shows the history of ownership but also gives you important information about the property, including:

- Any loans the seller has for which the house is promised as security. These loans must be paid off before you become the owner; otherwise, you may have to pay them to protect your house.
- Any easements or parts of the property you may not be able to use because of buried electrical cables, or land set aside for possible street widening.
- The amount of the state, city, county, school district, or other taxes for which the owner is liable, and whether they have been paid.
- Any deed or zoning restrictions that limit the way the property can be used. For example, you usually cannot raise livestock on a property zoned for residential use.
- Whether or not the property is part of a Homeowners' Association, and the amount of any overdue homeowners' assessments.

The closing agent will also coordinate the following activities before closing:

- Process a title insurance policy/binder based on the title search
- Gather documentation (i.e., a Survey) to ensure that the property is insurable
- Prepare closing documents lenders/all parties involved need to deliver all pertinent information in order for the title company to process needed documents

The buyer's responsibilities before closing:

- Review documents before the closing meeting to check for errors. Make sure you understand what you're signing, and seek legal advice on issues that you do not understand.
- Secure homeowner's insurance and inform your lender of the company you've selected.
- Check the Closing Disclosure against the Loan Estimate to make sure that closing costs are consistent.
- The Closing Disclosure discloses final settlement charges and confirms the exact amount that you need to bring to closing. Remember to bring a certified check or prepare a wire transfer for the exact amount.
- Bring a blank check from your checking account to sign up for easy automatic payments if you are working with Homewise as your lender.
- A final walk-through inspection should be done prior to the closing to make sure that all agreed-on repairs have been completed and any items included in the transaction are in fact in the home.
- Bring to the closing your copies of all documents and receipts that you have collected throughout the home-buying process.
- Call the utility companies and arrange to have the utilities transferred to your name as of the closing date. Also arrange for the phone to be installed. Use the following checklist:

 Call the electric and gas companies to have utilities transferred into your name
 Contact a telephone service provider for phone service if needed
 Make sure you get all keys, including the mailbox key
Contact other utility providers to transfer service (water sewer etc.)

Signing on the Dotted Line: Closing Paperwork

At the closing meeting you'll be signing many documents, and it's important that you understand what you're signing. You will sign documents in which you accept rights to the property and agree to pay the lender for the money borrowed, and others that give the lender rights to the property if you default on your loan. Some documents are required by federal law; others may be required by the state or your lender.

Closing Documents include:

- Closing Disclosure (typical closing costs are 2-4% of loan amount)
- Mortgage Note your promise to repay the lender according to the agreed terms. The note includes monthly payment amounts, payment due dates, details about how to submit payments, information about penalty fees for a late payment, and what can happen if you violate the terms of the note or mortgage.
- Deed of Trust the document used to secure the mortgage note. It recognizes your ownership of the property but gives the lender the right to claim the property if you fail to meet the terms of the note, or if you default. If you fail to make regular payments, or default on the loan, the lender has the right to demand full payment and to foreclose on your property. With this document, a third party holds the deed of the property as security until the buyer repays the loan.
- Title insurance policy and additional coverage option.
- Survey
- Affidavits these ask you to attest to certain information in writing, and will vary according to your situation. For example, a lender may require an affidavit that you intend to live in the property being purchased.
- Deed the legal document conveying title to the property from the seller to you. This can also be called a Warranty or a Grant Deed.
- Automatic Payment sign-up form
- Warranties for new homes you should receive a copy of the one year warranty from the builder and the 1–10 year roof warranty from the roofer.
- Plus more!

After the closing meeting – and after the loan has been funded and the closing agent records documentation of new ownership at the County Courthouse – the buyer takes possession of the property. The buyer will be provided with copies of that documentation.

HELPFUL TIP

The Closing Disclosure shows all closing/settlement costs. The borrower pays some costs and the seller covers some costs. It is customary that the buyer negotiate with the seller to request that the seller pay some of the closing costs when the purchase contract is signed. Costs that sellers may cover will vary in different locations. The seller is also traditionally responsible for the realtor fee. Good Luck!

Appraisal

If the property was appraised for your loan, your lender is required to give you a copy at no additional cost at least 3 days before closing. If you have not yet received it, please contact your lender at the information listed below.

Contract Details

See your note and security instrument for information about

- · what happens if you fail to make your payments,
- · what is a default on the loan,
- situations in which your lender can require early repayment of the loan, and
- the rules for making payments before they are due.

Liability after Foreclosure

If your lender forecloses on this property and the foreclosure does not cover the amount of unpaid balance on this loan,

- state law may protect you from liability for the unpaid balance. If you refinance or take on any additional debt on this property, you may lose this protection and have to pay any debt remaining even after foreclosure. You may want to consult a lawyer for more information.
- ▼ state law does not protect you from liability for the unpaid balance.

Refinance

Refinancing this loan will depend on your future financial situation, the property value, and market conditions. You may not be able to refinance this loan.

Tax Deductions

If you borrow more than this property is worth, the interest on the loan amount above this property's fair market value is not deductible from your federal income taxes. You should consult a tax advisor for more information.

4.	BORROWER'S RIGHT TO PI		1. A
o1	- v	ts of Principal at any time before they are

I have the right to make payments of Principal at any time before they are due. A payment of Principal only is known as a "Prepayment." When I make a Prepayment, I will tell the Note Holder in writing that I am doing so. I may not designate a payment as a Prepayment if I have not made all the monthly payments due under the Note.

I may make a full Prepayment or partial Prepayments without paying a Prepayment charge. The Note Holder will use my Prepayments to reduce the amount of Principal that I owe under this Note. However, the Note Holder may apply my Prepayment to the accrued and unpaid interest on the Prepayment amount, before applying my Prepayment to reduce the Principal amount of the Note. If I make a partial Prepayment, there will be no changes in the due date or in the amount of my monthly payment unless the Note Holder agrees in writing to those changes.

5. LOAN CHARGES

If a law, which applies to this loan and which sets maximum loan charges, is finally interpreted so that the interest or other loan charges collected or to be collected in connection with this loan exceed the permitted limits, then: (a) any such loan charge shall be reduced by the amount necessary to reduce the charge to the permitted limit; and (b) any sums already collected from me which exceeded permitted limits will be refunded to me. The Note Holder may choose to make this refund by reducing the Principal I owe under this Note or by making a direct payment to me. If a refund reduces Principal, the reduction will be treated as a partial Prepayment.

6. BORROWER'S FAILURE TO PAY AS REQUIRED

(Λ) Late Charge for Overdue Payments

If the Note Holder has not received the full amount of any monthly payment by the end of _____ calendar days after the date it is due, I will pay a late charge to the Note Holder. The amount of the charge will be _____ % of my overdue payment of principal and interest. I will pay this late charge promptly but only once on each late payment.

(B) Default

If I do not pay the full amount of each monthly payment on the date it is due, I will be in default.

(C) Notice of Default

If I am in default, the Note Holder may send me a written notice telling me that if I do not pay the overdue amount by a certain date, the Note Holder may require me to pay immediately the full amount of Principal which has not been paid and all the interest that I owe on that amount. That date must be at least 30 days after the date on which the notice is mailed to me or delivered by other means.

(D) No Waiver By Note Holder

Even if, at a time when I am in default, the Note Holder does not require me to pay immediately in full as described above, the Note Holder will still have the right to do so if I am in default at a later time.

(E) Payment of Note Holder's Costs and Expenses

If the Note Holder has required me to pay immediately in full as described above, the Note Holder will have the right to be paid back by me for all of its costs and expenses in enforcing this Note to the extent not prohibited by applicable law. Those expenses include, for example, reasonable attorneys' fees.

7. GIVING OF NOTICES

Unless applicable law requires a different method, any notice that must be given to me under this Note will be given by delivering it or by mailing it by first class mail to me at the Property Address above or at a different address if I give the Note Holder a notice of my different address.

Any notice that must be given to the Note Holder under this Note will be given by delivering it or by mailing it by first class mail to the Note Holder at the address stated in Section 3(A) above or at a different address if I am given a notice of that different address.

8. OBLIGATIONS OF PERSONS UNDER THIS NOTE

If more than one person signs this Note, each person is fully and personally obligated to keep all of the promises made in this Note, including the promise to pay the full amount owed. Any person who is a guarantor, surety or endorser of this Note is also obligated to do these things. Any person who takes over these obligations, including the obligations of a guarantor, surety or endorser of this Note, is also obligated to keep all of the promises made in this Note. The Note Holder may enforce its rights under this Note against each person individually or against all of us together. This means that any one of us may be required to pay all of the amounts owed under this Note.

9. WAIVERS

I and any other person who has obligations under this Note waive the rights of Presentment and Notice of Dishonor. "Presentment" means the right to require the Note Holder to demand payment of amounts due. "Notice of Dishonor" means the right to require the Note Holder to give notice to other persons that amounts due have not been paid.

10. UNIFORM SECURED NOTE

This Note is a uniform instrument with limited variations in some jurisdictions. In addition to the protections given to the Note Holder under this Note, a Mortgage, Deed of Trust, or Security Deed (the "Security Instrument"), dated the same date as this Note, protects the Note Holder from possible losses which might result if I do not keep the promises which I make in this Note. That Security Instrument describes how and under what conditions I may be required to make immediate payment in full of all amounts I owe under this Note. Some of those conditions are described as follows:

If all or any part of the Property or any Interest in the Property is sold or transferred (or if Borrower is not a natural person and a beneficial interest in Borrower is sold or transferred) without Lender's prior written consent, Lender may require immediate payment in full of all sums secured by this Security Instrument. However, this option shall not be exercised by Lender if such exercise is prohibited by Applicable Law.

If Lender exercises this option, Lender shall give Borrower notice of acceleration. The notice shall provide a period of not less than 30 days from the date the notice is given in accordance with Section 15 within which Borrower must pay all sums secured by this Security Instrument. If Borrower fails to pay these sums prior to the expiration of this period, Lender may invoke any remedies permitted by this Security Instrument without further notice or demand on Borrower.

- (I) "Applicable Law" means all controlling applicable federal, state and local statutes, regulations, ordinances and administrative rules and orders (that have the effect of law) as well as all applicable final, non-appealable judicial opinions.
- (J) "Community Association Dues, Fees, and Assessments" means all dues, fees, assessments and other charges that are imposed on Borrower or the Property by a condominium association, homeowners association or similar organization.
- (K) "Electronic Funds Transfer" means any transfer of funds, other than a transaction originated by check, draft, or similar paper instrument, which is initiated through an electronic terminal, telephonic instrument, computer, or magnetic tape so as to order, instruct, or authorize a financial institution to debit or credit an account. Such term includes, but is not limited to, point-of-sale transfers, automated teller machine transactions, transfers initiated by telephone, wire transfers, and automated clearinghouse transfers.
- (L) "Escrow Items" means those items that are described in Section 3.
- (M) "Miscellaneous Proceeds" means any compensation, settlement, award of damages, or proceeds paid by any third party (other than insurance proceeds paid under the coverages described in Section 5) for: (i) damage to, or destruction of, the Property; (ii) condemnation or other taking of all or any part of the Property; (iii) conveyance in lieu of condemnation; or (iv) misrepresentations of, or omissions as to, the value and/or condition of the Property.
- (N) "Mortgage Insurance" means insurance protecting Lender against the nonpayment of, or default on, the Loan.
- (O) "Periodic Payment" means the regularly scheduled amount due for (i) principal and interest under the Note, plus (ii) any amounts under Section 3 of this Security Instrument.
- (P) "RESPA" means the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (12 U.S.C. §2601 et seq.) and its implementing regulation, Regulation X (24 C.F.R. Part 3500), as they might be amended from time to time, or any additional or successor legislation or regulation that governs the same subject matter. As used in this Security Instrument, "RESPA" refers to all requirements and restrictions that are imposed in regard to a "federally related mortgage loan" even if the Loan does not qualify as a "federally related mortgage loan" under RESPA.
- (Q) "Successor in Interest of Borrower" means any party that has taken title to the Property, whether or not that party has assumed Borrower's obligations under the Note and/or this Security Instrument.
